Facebook service provider share introduces you to a friend's preferred tailor

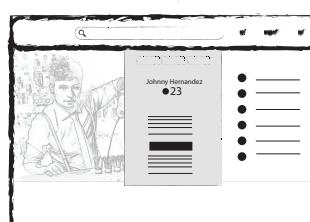

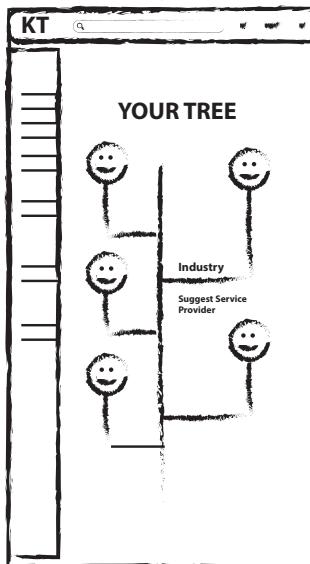

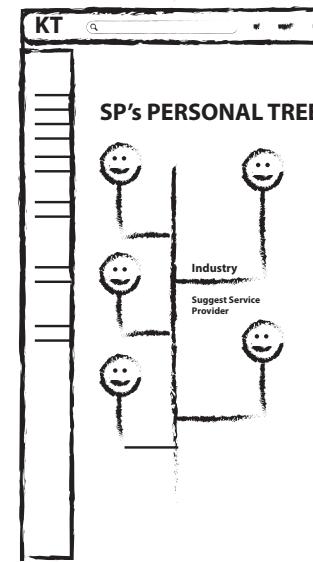

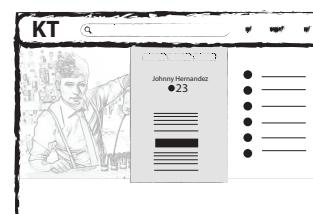

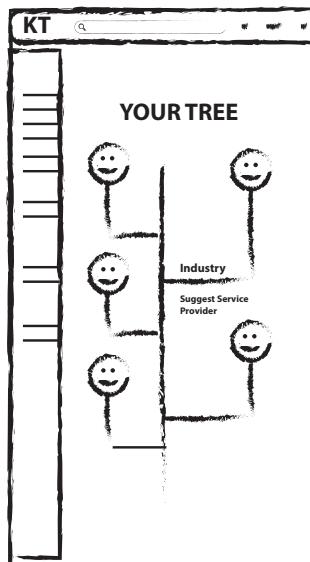

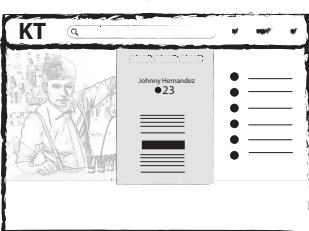

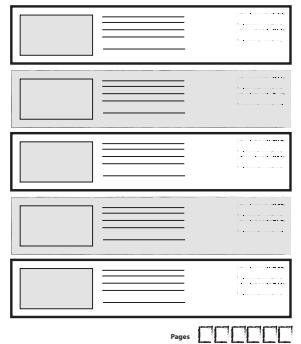

Facebook Tree share from FB friend

Immediately be able to select individual as the preferred service provider in the industry. If someone else in my kudo tree is already preferred from this Industry, I should be notified that they will be replaced by this person.

Service provider should be notified of that they someone who used to prefer them, and the new service provider should be notified they are now preferred by me "the user".

If I have set my privacy settings to show my activity to facebook, my friends should now know who I prefer from this Industry.
